NOW welcoming submission

The journal welcomes papers on dealing with any aspect in freshwater ecology, including both abiotic and biotic components of the freshwater systems. Any additional material that does not fit within the main body of the manuscript but that could be useful and relevant to have, such as further detailed information on methods, figures, tables, large datasets, videos, etc. is welcome as supplementary material.

We encourage publication of all data in online repositories; accession numbers from those repositories should be explicitly provided in the manuscript. Authors are warmly encouraged to place all species distribution records in a publicly accessible database such as the national Global Biodiversity Information Facility (GBIF) nodes or data centres endorsed by GBIF and to make any other type of data available online, for example through Morphbank, Morphobank, TreeBASE, BioModels, or other repositories.
